From the President's Desk .

Once again, I am pleased to report that our chapter has been successful in providing continuing education for our members. On February 7, the 8th annual Lowenfeld-Akeson Early Years Symposium was held with an outstanding turnout. This collaborative effort with Blind Babies Foundation and the California School for the Blind continues to be a wonderful venue for updating our skills and knowledge of intervention strategies, family perspectives, and medical information. This year, the focus was cortical visual impairment (or insufficiency), with Dr. Bill Takeshita delivering the main address. Other highlights included a parent/educator panel with questions from the audience, and small groups to address various age groups of children with CVI needs. In addition, CAPVI (California Association of Parents of the Visually Impaired) held a meeting. The conference was informative, and well-received by the attendees.

2004 is an election year and an awards year for NCAER. Give some thought to joining our Board and increasing your voice in your organization. Also, consider nominating a colleague in recognition of outstanding service. Look for both "calls" for nominations within this newsletter.

Details of the biennial awards banquet are enclosed. Do not miss this chance to honor your colleagues, and to get together with other NCAER members to recognize accomplishments of the past year!

Spotlight on Excellence

CTEVH Celebrates 45th Year of Excellence

By Stuart Wittenstein, NCAER President

The California Transcribers and Educators of the Visually Handicapped (CTEVH), in its 45th remarkable year, is a unique organization of professionals. Members include transcribers, both volunteer and professional; educators, including resource teachers, itinerant teachers and Orientation and Mobility Specialists; rehabilitation counselors and counselor teachers; administrators, both school and agency; parents of visually impaired children; librarians; paraprofessionals; students (both those learning to work with visually impaired and those who are visually impaired themselves) and all others concerned with the special needs of visually impaired individuals. A recent census of the CTEVH membership shows that there are over 1300 members. The roster includes 173 life members, although California members predominate (76%), CTEVH's members hail from 47 states, 7 Canadian provinces, and 5 other nations!

The CTEVH purposes are:

- To promote acceptable practices and technology to enhance the total educational program for the visually impaired
- To establish and delineate common transcribing procedures
- To coordinate the work of volunteer and career transcribers

CTEVH provides a forum where the widely diverse membership can share and learn from each other's experience, develop friendships and gain access to the most current information in the field. CTEVH provides regular news updates to members through a quarterly journal (published in print and Braille) and through an annual three-day conference featuring over 80 workshops conducted by speakers of national and international repute regarding the varied interests of the membership. Other services provided by CTEVH include:

- The Katie Sibert Scholarship Fund helps educators receive basic or advanced training courses, and helps transcribers attend the annual conference or enhance their skills through specialized workshops or training sessions.
- The Donna Coffee Youth Scholarship provides funding for a special project from a blind student
- ACCESS, a basic guide to visual impairment resources, which is currently being updated. ACCESS is provided free of charge to 11th and 12th grade students, and is available at a fee to all others.
- Financial support to voluntary groups who do tape recording and braillewriter repairs in institutions.
- Free multi-area workshops to introduce new techniques and technology.

Awards

At our biennial Officer Installation Dinner, we have a tradition of recognizing individuals in our field who have made significant contributions and are deserving of recognition. Our awards have included:

Educator of the Year-Those we have honored as Educator of the Year have demonstrated exceptional commitment and service to the field. They have shown leadership in working with students, families, and colleagues.

Paraprofessional of the Year-Those we have honored as Paraprofessional of the Year have demonstrated commitment and excellence while providing support to students and teachers.

Parent of the Year-Those we have honored have been individuals we have seen as models in advocating for the education of students and supporting programs and who have been role models for others.

Student Scholarship-Our last scholarship was awarded to student for pursuit of further formal education. Scholarships may be used for further education or training.

Awards may be given every two years.

To nominate an individual for an award or scholarship, the Awards Committee must receive a letter outlining qualifications and achievements no later than April 2, 2004. The committee will be responsible for selecting the award recipients.

Nominations should be addressed to:

Stephen A. Goodman
Chairperson, Awards Committee
500 Walnut Avenue
Fremont, CA 94536
FAX (510) 794 3993

Join the JAC/LIDAC Annual Public Input Meeting on Saturday during the CTEVH Conference. Be a part of change in the field and make your voice heard. Check your CTEVH Conference Program for details.

Call for Participants in Research Survey

The goal of this survey is to identify areas of training interest or need among parents and professionals involved with 0-6 yr.-olds with visual impairment or blindness throughout our diverse state of California. It also seeks to gather tips from each region as to local resources that have been exceptionally helpful. The results of the survey could lead to recommendations for tailored and region-specific in-services, workshops or web-based resources for families and the professionals involved with these children.

The study is based on the knowledge that as members of this profession, we are often scattered throughout the state. In addition, by sharing data, information and resources, we will improve our chances to best serve our students.

Mariah Roberts, Home Counselor with Blind Babies Foundation and Master's candidate at San Francisco State University, under Dr. Amanda Hall-Lueck, will be conducting this needs assessment. The survey is anonymous and free to those participating. It takes approximately 10 minutes to complete and is available in various languages. AER members can help both by completing the questionnaire themselves and/or distributing the questionnaires to those families they serve with children in this age-range. Families will be provided pre-stamped return envelopes and will not be asked any identifying information other than basic demographics.

You are essential to the process of this survey. Thank you for taking the time to help.

Please contact Mariah Roberts at mariahbbf@yahoo.com for further information, and to obtain surveys for distribution to families in your area.
